

Step 13: Decide the next steps

Once the study is final and the results are validated by stakeholders and national society management, the national society must make the following decisions:

- Whether to start a FbF program
- Which hazard to work on
- With whom to partner for your FbF work