

Historical impact

Data on impacts of past disasters that will contribute to determining the impact level / trigger and to the selection of early actions. Gathering historical impact data is an important part of the initial analysis that is the first step of EAP development.