

Step 4: Test EAP in simulation or drill

The coordinator of the drill or controller will explain the methodology and roles prior to activation of the exercise. The script will drive the sequence of events, messages and situations/challenges, from which participants will take decisions. The controller may intervene if actions or decisions do not reflect a real early action scenario. Evaluators and observers should be located within the area of the exercise, but shall not interrupt the simulation.